EXTREMELY RARE. Possibly unrecorded or is it the edition of 1587, of which only one copy is recorded in the Bibliographical Society's Short Title Catalogue, that in the Wellcome Historical Medical Museum, which wants the title-page? This copy wants the last leaf (K2), the inner margin of K1 is slightly defective, affecting a few words, and the inner blank corners of a few leaves defective.

- 46 CHAUCER (Geoffrey), The Woorkes of Geffrey Chaucer, newly printed, with diuers addicions, whiche were neuer in printed before : with the siege and destruccion of the worthy citee of Thebes, compiled by Jhon Lidgate, Monke of Berie. Imprinted at London, by Jhon Kyngston, for Jhon Wight, dwellyng in Poules Churchyarde, Anno 1561. Folio, BLACK LETTER, two or three headlines very slightly shaved, but a good copy, calf, £150.

This copy belonged to Margaret Radcliff (daughter of Sir John Radcliff, of Ordsall) one of the Maids of Honour to Queen Elizabeth. She died of grief November 10th, 1599 on hearing of the death of her brother Sir Alexander Radcliff, who fought under Lord Essex and was buried at St. Margarets, Westminster. Her death caused great sorrow at the Court.

Ben Jonson wrote the following anagram upon her, printed in his Works, 1616 :—

“ Marble weep, for thou do'st cover,
 A dead beautie underneath thee,
 Rich as nature could bequeath thee :
 Grant then, no rude hand remove her.
 All the gazers on the skies
 Read not in faire Heaven's storie,
 Expresses truth or truer glorie,
 Than they might in her bright eyes.
 Rare as wonder was her wit ;
 And like nectar ever flowing :
 Till time, strong by her bestowing,
 Conquer'd hath both life and it.
 Life whose grieve was out of fashion
 In these times ; few so ru'd
 Fate in a brother. To conclude
 For wit, features, and true passion,
 Earth, thou hast not such another.”

On the title-page is the inscription : Donū Honoratissimæ Virginis regineæ Margaretæ Radclif. Go. Buc. 1597. The volume also contains several notes, some signed “Robert Tofte” and in one case with initials only R.T.

On the verso of folio 285 after the Prologue to “The Testament of Love,” Robert Tofte has written “In lode de la Madama Maria M— donzella bellezza, et gentildonna,” this he has not signed, but the following lines of his in Latin on folio 323 “The Remedie of Love” are signed in full ;—

Fœmina, flamma, fretum, monstrum, insanabile
vulnus

Demon, et quo non, peius in orbe malum.

In another place :—

As manie Birdes the Aire, and fishe the seas containe
So manie Fraudes, shifts, mischifs, Wiles
A Woman hath in braine.

Robert Tofte, the Elizabethan poet, published a number of translations and original verses between 1593 and his death in 1620.

By the inscription on the title-page it appears that this very interesting ASSOCIATION BOOK was successively in the possession of one of Queen Elizabeth's most beloved Maids of Honour, and of Sir George Buc, the Elizabethan poet, and Master of Revels to James I, a man without doubt familiar to Shakespeare. To these interests are added the notes by another Elizabethan poet, Robert Tofte, and it is difficult to imagine a copy of this edition of Chaucer which could have more piquant attractions.

- 47 COLDEN (The Hon. Cadwallader, one of his Majesty's Counsel and Surveyor-General of New York), *The History of the Five Indian Nations of Canada, which are the Barrier between the English and French in that Part of the World. On the back of the frontispiece is the autograph signature of the Shakespearian commentator, Dr. Richard Farmer. A still earlier owner was Dr. William Stukeley who has written on page 1, "E libris Gul. Stukelij Colleg Corp. Christi Cantab Alumnus Anno 1704." Stukeley has written some very interesting notes on a blank leaf at the end of Part I showing that he was impressed by the author's fancies. It was probably he who was offended at the title as printed, "The Comical History," and has cut out the word "Comical" from both titles, and the first page, and has in all three places substituted small pieces of paper on which the word "Famous" takes its place. These words and others on page 2, and the corrected errata are in MS. in rough imitation of type.

- 51 DEERING (Dr. [George] C[h]arles), Catalogus Stirpium, &c. or, a Catalogue of Plants Naturally growing and commonly cultivated in divers Parts of England. More especially about Nottingham. Nottingham: Printed for the Author, by G. Ayscough. 1738. 8vo, old calf, VERY RARE, £3 3s.

Ruff, 1802. 8vo, FIRST EDITION, half pigskin, with the book-plate and label of John Drinkwater, author of the History of the Siege of Gibraltar; VERY RARE, £3 3s.*

Thomas Frognall Dibdin began his career as a bibliographer in 1802 by this work, which was published at Gloucester. It is chiefly founded on Edward Harwood's "View" of the classics (1790); but it was the means of introducing him to Lord Spencer, who even then was known as the possessor of one of the most valuable private libraries in the country.

Didot l'Aîné avec les caracteres de Firmin son 2d Fils, 1786.* 12mo, original calf gilt, gilt edges, £5 10s.

A very interesting volume from the Didot press. The "Epître" had appeared in 1784 in an octavo volume but as Mr. Updike says (Printing types, I. 227) "it was reprinted in an exquisite little volume in 18mo—Pierre Didot's Essai de Fables nouvelles dédiées au Roi . . . 1786. The same series of types is used in both books, but not in the same sizes. In this small format the delicacy of type is warranted—and the composition is very tastefully managed."

The first edition of "Tom Jones" was published on March 3rd, 1749. This four-volume edition and the second six-volume edition were published simultaneously on April 13th. On the fly-leaf of vol. IV is the inscription "Sarah Sergison Her Book May 1th 1749."

[Madrid, Printed for the British and Foreign Bible Society by Andrés Borrégo.] 1837. Sm. 8vo, original sheepskin, large and fine copy, VERY RARE, £15 15s.

THIS IS GEORGE BORROW'S TRANSLATION OF THE GOSPEL OF ST. LUKE INTO GITANO, OR THE LANGUAGE OF THE SPANISH GYPSIES.

Borrow entered Spain in 1836 from Portugal over the boundary at La Caya, and staying at Badajoz for ten days, accomplished this translation. Later, when he had settled himself in Madrid, he printed and distributed it.

ONLY 250 COPIES WERE STRUCK OFF. It is the first specimen of a book ever attempted in any Gypsy dialect, and it was used freely by the great German philologist, Professor Pott, in the second part of his "Die Zigeuner in Europa und Asien"; while it excited the attention of scholars throughout the continent.

It is probable that the majority of copies were thumbed out of existence, in the hands of the Zincali. This copy has a note in pencil that it was given by Borrow to F. Sitwell at Seville in April 1840, where Borrow was residing until early in that month while completing his Gypsies of Spain.

Consult Knapp. Life, Writings and Correspondence of George Borrow.

The latter was the Welsh poet, also like Harry a Pembrokeshire parson, then being rector of Prendergast. The volume is of VERY GREAT RARITY and of exceptional interest on account of the engraved genealogies wherein special prominence is given to the WELSH DESCENTS.

- 162 WILLIS (John), To the Kings most excellent maiestie. The humble Petitions of John Willis, of Cicester in the Countie of Gloucester [praying for the amendment of causeways erected by his grandfather John Willis, the elder, round about Bristol]. Dated White-hall, March 23. 1610. Preceded by two pages bearing "The Rt. Hon. the Earle of Pembroke, and the Lord Chandois, in the behalfe of Willis sute, for the amending of the caws-wayes about Bristoll" dated Gloucester Aug. 30. 1599. and a page having "The true quantitie of the particular caws-ways, and what length they doe seuerally containe." The petition is followed by the King's order for enquiry touching the authenticity of the case, and a letter from Pembroke to Sir John Herbert, Secretary of State dated April 27, 1611, urging speedy assistance for Willis. [Without printer's name.] 3 leaves, sm. 4to, sewed, £25.

SEE ILLUSTRATION.

We cannot trace another copy of this extremely rare pamphlet, nor can we find that the efforts of the elder and younger Willis have been recorded by writers on the history of roadmaking. This is the less surprising perhaps, because the original petition and papers are not noted in the Calendar of State Papers. But that these men deserve a niche in the history of social progress cannot be denied, for here the younger is shown as pressing for the developement and maintenance of highways constructed by his grandfather just when wheeled transport was beginning to ply between Bristol and London with the merchandise imported by Bristol from America and elsewhere. Is it possible that Willis intended to present this petition in a printed form to the Secretary of State, but that something prevented him, so that only this one copy has come down to us? The text begins on A2; it seems very doubtful whether A1 held anything beyond a signature. It is not present here.
